Judge me, O God, and plead my Cause.—Psalm 42:1

There is much injustice in the world. We can come off triumphantly if we leave the final result with God after we have done our best to obtain justice for ourselves and others. Character is developed that way and character is all we take with us into eternity.

McClellan Warns TVA Against Expansion Without Congress OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) served notice on the Tennessee Valley Authority's board of directors Tuesday night not to expand TVA power generating facilities without specific congressional approval.

In an 11th hour move, shortly before the Senate adjourned, McClellan offered a resolution which would express the sense of the Senate that TVA should not use power revenues to finance additional generating units at the Johnsonville, John Sevier and Galatin steam plants.

McClellan said he knew he could not get consideration of the measure in the wind-up rush. But he said it would serve as notice to the board that action should not be taken without congressional approval. If the board does go ahead, he added, it will be time to "take a broad look-see—an overall look-see—at the authority of the board."

ANOTHER DEPENDABLE COLGATE PRODUCT

DREW PEARSON Says: Dulles Frowned On Early Russian Visit To U. S.; Kefauver's Political Star Rises Again; Vice President Nixon Is One Up In His Feud With Senator Knowland.

WASHINGTON. — Eisenhower would have invited Premier Bulganin and Marshal Zhukov to Washington during the Geneva talks, if Foster Dulles had let him. It was definitely discussed and the Russians were itching to come — right away—but Dulles said no. Ike got irritated at times at his Maginot-lined secretary of state.

Reason behind the current, historic talks with the Chinese Reds was a repeated warning from Allen Dulles, head of Central Intelligence, that the Reds would begin a devastating bombardment of Quemoy-Matsu immediately after the Geneva conference. Ike decided it was better to talk than retreat — hitherto any intimation that we would talk to the Chinese Reds without Chiang Kai-Shek being represented has brought screams of anguish from the Knowland wing of the Republican party. Its members are still irate but less vocal. State Department advisers have raised Cain with Chiang Kai-Shek's trigger-happy public relations men who have published stories about Chinese Red planes piloted by Russians firing on Nationalist planes. A lot of these incidents didn't really happen, and the State Department is trying to tone down inflammatory news stories. You've seen a lot less of them lately.

POLITICAL SIGNS AND SIGNALS

Just before he was stricken with a heart seizure, friends of Senator Lyndon Johnson planned to launch a presidential boom. The friends included Russell of Georgia, Smathers of Florida, and Symington of Missouri. They were all set to make a public announcement when Lyndon felt the effect of his crueling work and was carried to the hospital.

Arrow-tongued Senator Bob Kerr of Oklahoma, one of the few who took on Douglas MacArthur, is "willing" to take the Senate leadership if either Johnson or Clements "don't want it next year. (He's both willing and eager.) The big shambling hill-billy from Tennessee, Estes Kefauver, has taken terrific strides toward the Democratic nomination without exerting any noticeable effort. He's one of the few Democrats who know how to fire political shots like Sergeant York of Tennessee—to kill. And unlike some of his colleagues he's not afraid to fire. Carmine De Sapio, head of Tammany and the political genius behind Governor Averell Harriman, isn't wedded to Adlai for the nomination as is his friend Averell. De Sapio is for any good Democratic campaigner.

Republican leaders are now feeling much happier about prospects that Ike will run again. If they can keep him absorbed with international affairs and not worried about Al Talbotism or Dixon-Yatesism they figure he'll be ready and willing for '56. George Bender, the singing senator from Ohio, has got his signals crossed again. Usually he takes them from his good friend, Secretary Humphrey, who comes from Bender's home town, Cleveland. But while Bender has been Secretary Talbot's chief defender in the Senate, Humphrey has been Talbot's chief critic in the cabinet. Once before, Bender got his signals cross on the St. Lawrence Seaway. After vigorously opposing it, he found that Humphrey was its chief pusher. So Bender switched pronto. After all Humphrey has been his biggest campaign contributor.

NIXON SCORES ON KNOWLAND

Rumors persist that Vice President Nixon won't run again, will retire voluntarily to practice law. All outward indications, however, are to the contrary. It was Nixon himself who said in letting him hold a cabinet meeting in Ike's absence—a pure public relations stunt. Almost never are cabinet meetings held by vice presidents, and never in the memory of Washington observers have pictures been taken of vice-presidential sessions. But Nixon not only held a meeting but got a photo to prove it. His grandchildren will be happy. Nixon's public relations build-up last month was gall-and-wormwood to the other young man from California. Bill Knowland came down to the airport in the rain to welcome Ike home from Geneva, but didn't look happy at seeing Nixon in charge of welcoming arrangements.

Knowland is expected to resign the Republican leadership of the Senate if Eisenhower goes too far in dumping Chiang Kai-Shek. Senator "Salty" Saltonstall, the Massachusetts blizzard, is already wig-wagging that he's ready to take over the GOP leadership if Knowland bolts.

The GOP Senate Policy committee meeting behind closed doors last week voted that Secretary Talbot should be dumped. Bad political security risk. . . . Soft-hearted Stuart Symington hated to see Talbot on the griddle. Stuart is a friend of Talbot's wife and family.

BENSON GOES INTO REVERSE

Backstage reason why Secretary Benson suddenly modified his plans to dump surplus cotton on the world market was a story released by this column on July 14, disclosing that Benson's assistant, James A. McConnell, had met secretly with five southern senators at the Raleigh hotel and revealed his plan to dump cotton. Economic repercussions from this story were such that Benson reversed himself. He got some tough warnings from political leaders to go slow.

Congratulations to Senator Jimmy Phillips of Texas legislature for his expose of Texas Commissioner Bascom Giles for rook-ing veterans on land deals. Phillips' crusade forced Giles' trial and conviction. . . . If the Kremlin is really sincere about its smiles, Hungary might be a good place to start. Last week, Communist Hungary deported approximately 800 relatives of Hungarian exiles who had been working for Radio Free Europe. One exile, La's Hajdu, is former vice president of the Hungarian peasant union. Fifteen of his relatives, including cousins, aunts, and in-laws, were corralled, loaded into trucks, and shipped off to the Rumanian border.

Other relatives of other exiles have been picked up without notice, loaded into police trucks, and told to find their own transportation at their own expense to Rumania. They can take with them only what they can carry. . . . It's one of the most brutal recent cases of Communist persecution, and took place while Bulganin was smiling at Ike in Geneva.

Congress Investigated Nearly as Much as It Legislated; Pace Slower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress this year investigated nearly as much as it legislated — but the pace was slower and the headlines less frequent.

None of the investigations measured up to the marathon Army-McCarthy hearings, Congress' top story of 1954.

But the Senate in particular, did stage a series of major hearings, climaxed by the inquiry which caused the resignation of Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott Monday.

The Senate Investigating subcommittee, under Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) delved into Talbott's actions while secretary in connection with his $60,000-a-year business partnership.

After intensive questioning by Senate investigators, Talbott pulled out of the partnership, saying he had done nothing wrong in retaining it but admitting he made a mistake in giving it a helping hand.

President Eisenhower studied the record and accepted Talbott's resignation.

Best show of the year came when the same subcommittee questioned Harry Lev, millionaire cap-maker, inventor of the foam-rubber grommet and his own brand of broken English. Lev, posing in the uniform caps he made for the military, denied in colorful language that he bribed government employees to get a contract for nearly 7 million white sailor hats. He kept the audience and senators laughing much of the time despite the seriousness of the charges.

Sixty-Year Hamburger Supply

The House Government Operations Committee came up with the intriguing information that the Navy had a 60-year supply of canned hamburger and enough ketchup to wash it down.

The Navy said it wasn't so—it could gobble up that much hamburger in a hurry.

The Senate Banking Committee's investigation of the stock market promoted it to begin acting like a vovoy. The Democrats concluded the government should keep an eye on the market, lest it get out of hand; the Republicans criticized the investigation and said prosperity and the rising stock market were due to the Eisenhower administration.

The Senate Monopoly subcommittee dug deep into the Dixon-Yates power contract, and didn't let up when the President cancelled the agreement.

Turnabout witness Harvey Matus appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee where he once had informed on fellow Communists. This time he swore he had lied to Congress and the courts in calling persons Communists.

The same group heard CBS news commentator Winston Burdett admit he had been a Communist from 1937 to 1942. It questioned a number of newspapermen he had named as his associates.

Juvenile delinquency and the dope racket were investigated sporadically all year by a variety of subcommittees, which deplored them.

A Senate civil service subcommittee investigated the administration's personnel security program. George V. McDavitt was fired as security officer for the Small Business Administration following testimony on his activities.

Army Bungles Peress Case

The Senate Investigating subcommittee went laboriously through the tangled Army career of former Maj. Irving Peress, who was honorably discharged after refusing to say whether he was a Communist. The subcommittee said the Army bungled the case from the beginning, then tried to hide its mistakes.

Allis-Chalmers Workers Reject Pay Offer

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Production workers at Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. plant here Tuesday voted 3,330-54 against acceptance of a 7 cent hourly pay increase and for a strike if negotiators fail to reach settlement of a new contract.

Francis Smith, president of local 1027 of the CIO United Auto Workers, said the vote does not mean a strike will be called but gives authorization for one.

Sky the Limit For Junketing Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Junketing congressmen were off and running today to just about everywhere except the moon, and that may come later.

Unfortunately a new House-Senate extra terrestrial exploration committee, proposed by Rep. Frank M. Karsten (D-Mo.), isn't organized yet.

The sky, apparently, is still the limit, but there aren't any other limitations to speak of.

Even the Iron Curtain had been inched upward this year, and everybody who could think of a plausible reason for inquiring about visas for Russia did so. A half dozen senators, who got started early, already had visas nailed down.

Otherwise it was just like every year after adjournment. One House member, wisely putting off his Central American trip until winter, Tuesday night put it this way:

"This place is getting to be like the last day of school when they dragged out the grab bag. Everyone knows it's going some place, but he doesn't know yet just where."

Gallatin County Four-H Fair Begins Tomorrow

A Tractor Driver's contest will be held Thursday afternoon with the cooperation of the machinery dealers of Gallatin county. Agricultural projects and foods projects will be judged Friday morning. Judging of the agricultural projects will begin at 9:00 a. m. and the foods projects will be judged at 9:30 a. m. Friday at 1 p. m. the Agricultural Demonstration contest will be held, and at 2:30 the home economics foods demonstration contest will begin. The demonstrations will be held in the gym. At 7:30 p. m. Friday an amateur contest among the members of the various 4-H clubs will be held following which the 4-H Queen will be crowned.

Russia Proposes Adenauer Visit

Long Named Executive Secretary of Illinois Youth Commission

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Harvey L. Long of Elmhurst today was executive secretary of the Illinois Youth Commission because the State Senate failed to confirm his appointment as a commissioner.

Youth Commission Chairman Robert D. Patton Tuesday announced

Long's appointment to the newly created post. Patton said Gov. William G. Stratton, now on a New England vacation, had made the appointment.

Long, a former state superintendent of parolees, was named a member of the new commission July 16, 1953. But the Senate, acting in accord with opposition by Sen. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Downers Grove, refused to confirm the appointment this year.

Scientists Claim Anti-Poison Ivy Serum

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Scientists at the University of Pennsylvania claimed today to have come up with an anti-poison ivy serum.

Dr. Donald M. Pillsbury, professor of dermatology, said Monday that tests on thousands of student volunteers have shown "there is absolutely no question the vaccine will reduce sensitivity to poison ivy."

However, Pillsbury said there were "a few bugs to be worked out yet" on the vaccine. He said it would still have to be determined what the minimum dosage would be to desensitize a person.

Disability Freeze Brings Increase In Payments Under Social Security

When the mailman brought William Schmidt's regular monthly social security retirement check today, he received an especially warm welcome. For Mr. Schmidt of 202 West Fifth street, West Frankfort, who became totally disabled for work in January, 1952, is one of the first old-age insurance beneficiaries to receive an increase in benefits under the "disability freeze" provision in the 1954 amendments to the social security law.

Until now, a worker like Mr. Schmidt, who had no earnings for a prolonged period because of disability, might find his social security benefits cut down considerably or lost completely by the time he reached 65 and was otherwise eligible to collect them. Under the new "disability freeze" provision in the law, a worker who has been totally disabled for work for six months or more, with a disability which is expected to continue indefinitely, can apply to have his social security record frozen as of the time his disability began. Then, when the time comes for figuring up the monthly benefits payable to him at 65, or to his family in case of his death, the years when he had no earnings because of his disability are not counted against him.

Benefit Refigured
Because the law was written to apply to workers now over 65 (if they became disabled before reaching that age) as well as to younger workers who are now or who may become disabled, Mr. Schmidt was able to have his monthly benefit refigured to leave out the years during which his disability kept him from working. This has meant $9.40 more in his check for the month of July, the one delivered today, and in all his monthly checks from now on. July is the first month for which these increased amounts can be paid under the law, although social security offices have been accepting applications for the "disability freeze" from disabled workers since January 1.

More than 15,000 other old-age beneficiaries throughout the nation received increases along with Mr. Schmidt, according to E. Bishop Hill, manager of the Harrisburg social security office. The average increase for this group is $11. In some cases, a portion of the benefit increase is attributable to the drop-out provision in the 1954 amendments to the social security law. In figuring or refiguring a worker's benefit amount, this provision permits the dropping out of up to five years in which he had low or no earnings. Persons qualifying for the "disability freeze" also get the advantage of the drop-out provision, and the combined drop-out of years of low earnings as well as the period of their disability results in a substantially higher benefit rate.

Protects Future Benefits
Beneficiaries receiving increased checks today were those who filed application for the "disability freeze" between January 1 and July 1 of this year. Old-age insurance beneficiaries who meet the requirements and apply before July 1, 1957, to have their earnings records frozen will receive any increases due in their benefit amounts retroactively to July 1955. Mr. Schmidt applied last January to have his record frozen. Mr. Hill urges all totally disabled people who worked under social security for five or more years before they became disabled to get in touch with their nearest social security offices now. In the case of those already over 65, it may mean increases in their monthly social security retirement checks. For younger disabled workers, it may be a means of protecting their future benefit rights, and those of their families, against reduction or loss.

Since social security records are confidential in nature, Mr. Schmidt gave his consent to have the facts pertaining to his case made public.

Air Reservists to Hold Open House at Scott Base Aug. 20

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill.—On August 20, Air Reservists of the 94th Tac Bomb Wing will hold a gigantic open house in the Reserve area of Scott Air Force Base in conjunction with "Operation Wingspread."

The open house is being held to afford the taxpayer an opportunity to see a group of civilians transformed into an efficient combat-ready bombing unit of the United States Air Force. It will also allow the taxpayer an opportunity to see the small cost of maintaining a Reserve Air Force Wing in top combat readiness for any combat mission as directed. Doors will be open at 10 a. m. Throughout the day there will be guided tours of the new 2½ million dollar facilities, displays, and exhibits. At 3 p. m. there will be a parade of Air Reserve personnel, 725 strong, which will culminate in a flyover of T-33 (jets) and B-26 Bombers.

The Air Reservists of the 94th Tac Bomb Wing will be in the midst of their participation in "Operation Wingspread"—a demonstration of strength and readiness through attendance in the annual two-week summer encampment of all Air Force Reserve units in the United States. They will be going to Scott Air Force Base from a 200-mile radius of St. Louis, and will be training with active duty Air Force personnel with the intent to become current on Air Force policies, procedures, and job proficiency. These men and women are taking advantage of the Air Force Reserve benefits while remaining in their civilian occupations.

U. S. to Fire Vapor Rocket Into Skies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plans to fire a sodium vapor rocket 60 miles into the skies over New Mexico in an experiment expected to produce a ball of light equal to a full moon at twilight.

Dr. Homer Newell, an official of the Naval Research Laboratory, confirmed that the experiment will be undertaken after a scientist disclosed the project in London.

Newell said it is hoped the experiment will clear up some of the mysteries about a layer of sodium which scientists believe hovers in the ionosphere 60 miles above the earth.

He added that the sodium moon project also may supply important data for the man-made earth satellite vehicle which the United States hopes to hurl between 200 and 300 miles above the earth in 1957.

Congress Quits; Record Before Nation

controlled Congress, he said, would have enacted more of Mr. Eisenhower's domestic program and more of it in accord with the President's recommendations.

Payoff Next Year
Two years—not one—make the record of a Congress and the payoff will come next year. On the basis of the record a year hence, the two parties will have to go before the country for the 1956 campaign. Most Republicans hope and believe, however, they will have a still bigger asset in an Eisenhower candidacy for a second term.

The Democratic cast to the legislative program was shown in the minimum wage bill, lifting the floor to $1 instead of Mr. Eisenhower's 90-cent recommendation, and in a more liberal public housing program than the administration asked.

It also was shown in House-approved bills to restore 90 per cent price supports for basic farm crops and to pay more benefits from the old age insurance system. These must await Senate action next year.

Tax legislation divided the parties this year, too, but a handful of Democratic votes in the Senate enabled the administration to defeat moves to lower personal income taxes while the budget still in the red. Tax cuts will be an issue again next year.

Major Administration Casualties

Major casualties of the Eisenhower program were proposals for highway and school construction legislation. Democrats rejected both and tried to write their own but failed to get them enacted.

Congress ignored administration plans for amending the Taft-Hartley law, reinsuring private health insurance plans, increasing postal rates and giving the vote to 18-year-olds. The House killed the Hawaiian statehood project.

However the domestic record is appraised, the Senate Democratic leadership regarded the greatest achievements of the session as those in foreign policy. These involved the Formosa resolution, the foreign trade bill and treaties affecting Austria, Western Germany, Southeast Asia and Formosa.

When Congress' voice was heard in foreign policy, it was most of all the booming voice of Sen. Walter F. George D-Ga., dean of the Senate and chairman of its foreign relations committee. He first suggested a Big Four conference, and the administration agreed, and he proposed that a try be made at face-to-face talks with Red China, and the administration again agreed.

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Springfield City Council Tuesday unanimously adopted the city 1.2 cent sales tax, joining about 90 other Illinois municipalities which have done so.

The council expects the tax to raise about $600,000 a year. The council repealed the city cigarette tax, which produced about $120,000 a year.

Banks Ties Record
With Fourth Grand
Slam Homer of Season

CHICAGO — Shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs put his name in baseball's record book alongside sluggers like Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig Tuesday when he walloped his fourth grand slam homer of the season.

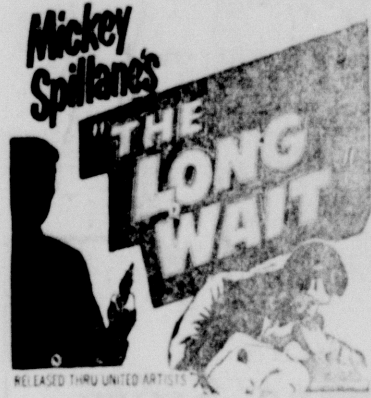

Banks was the fifth National League and 10th major leaguer to hit that many bases-loaded homers in one season. No one ever has hit five.

Banks' clout also put him within range of another record. It was his 32nd of the season. The all-time record for homers by a shortstop in one season is 39, set by Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox in 1949.

Seven Carrier Mills businessmen are attending the introduction of a new type of automatic washer and a new line of radio and television receivers in Chicago today and tomorrow at the Crosley and Bendix Home Appliances distributor convention.

"We understand the Bendix washer uses a unique and completely new washing principle, which is neither tumble-action nor the agitator type," said Clyde O'Keefe, president of the O'Keefe Distributing Co., wholesale distributor for Crosley and Bendix. He added that the Crosley radio and television lines were reported to have several completely new features.

At the convention he is accompanied by other local representatives of his firm including Bill Dean, Joseph G. Gaul, Glen Dunbar, Tom Sullenger, Bob Duerr, and Miss Anita Blue.

Dumb Pitchers Work on .240 Hitters:
Cochrane; Signs One Out of 600

DETROIT — (NEA) — Gordon Stanley Cochrane is back in baseball after an absence of 17 years. Mickey Cochrane had a brief whirl as the Athletics' general manager some seasons back, but quickly wound up on the losing side of the Mack's family fight.

Cochrane coached at the Yankees' pre-training season school and scouts for the New York Americans in the Midwest.

What difference in the game since the greatest of catchers played it so well 20 years ago? The reply is rather astonishing.

"Pitchers outsmarting themselves working on .240 hitters," says Black Mike. "They try to get a corner or pitch to spots on men who are next door to being All America outs. You repeatedly see the count going to two and three on batters who practically have to buy base hits and couldn't hurt a pitcher if they hit him over the head with an armful of bats. So the dumb pitchers walk them and have someone for the big fellows to bat in."

Cochrane recalls how Mr. Mack — all of Connie's old boys call him Mr. Mack — used to say: "Don't waste any time and effort getting rid of those kind. The only way they can hurt you is to be put on base. Get the breaking or fast ball over the plate. There's worry and work enough in the good hitters."

"Mr. Mack used to tell how Chief Bender absolutely refused to waste a pitch when in position to do so with two strikes on even the superior hitters. Albert, as Mr. Mack called him, wanted to get the hit out of there, would break a low curve over the outside corner or fire the hard one. 'Why waste a pitch?' he'd argue. 'I'll give him something he can't hit.'"

"In a game just the other day, I saw a veteran, high-salaried pitcher walk a catcher who was hitting all of 189. You see pitchers who should know better walk pitchers who couldn't hit a softball with a plank."

Cochrane has several suggestions for speeding up games that drag out for three hours and more, but would lead off with having pitchers quit treating .240 hitters as though they were Ted Williams and Roy Campanella.

"Baseball in more recent years has come in for a rash of masterminding and thorough coaching," points out the Hall of Famer who managed the Tigers to two pennants and a world championship. "Some of it is good, of course, but players too frequently don't properly apply the theory. They outsmart themselves like pitchers do when they walk a poor hitter by pitching too carefully."

Cochrane finds prospects even harder to find than they were in his playing days. He's looked at 600 this year and signed just one, Walt Messina, an 18-year-old Detroit lad who was shipped to Owsensboro of the Class D Kitty league when he graduated from high school. Young Messina is a second baseman and Cochrane likes his arm, speed and style at the plate.

"He must have looked at pictures of Charley Gohringer," says Gordon Cochrane, nostalgically.

Dr. Ivy Files
$350,000 Suit
Against Stoddard

NEW YORK — Two former officials of the University of Illinois have squared off against each other in a $350,000 libel suit arising from a three-year dispute over the value of a new anti-cancer drug called krebiozen.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, physician, physiologist and former vice president of the university, filed the suit Tuesday against Dr. George D. Stoddard, psychologist and former president of the school. Stoddard is now with New York University.

Ivy said he based the suit on statements contained in Stoddard's new book, "Krebiozen: The Great Cancer Mystery," which Beacon Press Inc. will publish next month.

Ivy charged that Stoddard's statements indicate that Ivy was "willing to prostitute himself as a scientist in the perpetration of a gigantic hoax and fraud in connection with a cancer remedy which was not existent."

Ivy denied that he now backs or endorses krebiozen. But he said he was continuing to study it with its originator, Dr. Steven Durovic. Ivy said the drug continued to show promise as a treatment for cancer.

Both Ivy and Stoddard were forced out of the University of Illinois in 1953 after Stoddard banned Ivy's research on krebiozen there.

Union Turns Down
Company Offer
At Joppa Plant

JOPPA, Ill. — Company and union officials at Electric Energy Inc. power plant here resumed bargaining talks today after the union turned down a company contract proposal.

The huge EEI firm supplies part of the power for the atomic power plant at Paducah, Ky.

Business agent Norman Barnes of Local 314 of the International Union of Operating Engineers said the union membership voted Tuesday to reject a company proposal for a new contract.

Terms of the proposal were not disclosed.

Barnes said the union set Sept. 3 as a strike date unless "acceptable" contract terms are reached by then.

The union represents about 212 workers at the Joppa plant.

Caterpillar Pact Ratified

PEORIA, Ill. — CIO United Auto Workers were back on the job today after ratifying by an overwhelming margin a three-year contract offered by the Caterpillar Tractor Co.

The contract, ratified Tuesday includes a guaranteed annual wage plan similar to those granted to Ford and General Motors employees, an immediate 8-cent hourly wage boost, and an overall hike of 25 cents an hour within two years.

It also includes improved hospitalization and pension provisions and wage adjustments tied to the cost-of-living index.

Union spokesmen said the contract, which covers about 18,000 Caterpillar workers, was approved by a margin of 85-90 per cent.

Bears Shift Fullback To Halfback Post

RENSSELAER, Ind. — The Chicago Bears have so many fullbacks that Coach George Halas has switched one of them—rookie Rick Casares—to halfback.

In addition to Casares and No. 1 fullback Chick Jagade, Halas has Joe Fortunato and Andy Kozar, both of whom have been giving Jagade a keen battle for the regular job.

Yankees Trip Indians in 10th, 2-1, as White Sox
Triumph Over Boston, 2-1

By United Press
Professional odds-makers in Las Vegas made the second-place Yankees 7-5 favorites today to win the American league pennant and it looks like they knew what they were doing because the weakest hitter in the lineup can break up a ball game like Joe Collins did Tuesday night.

Going into Tuesday night's game with the Indians, Collins was low man on the Yankee totem pole with an unimposing average of .209.

Collins began boosting that mark with a home run in the first inning and by the time he hit his second homer of the game in the 10th, the Yankees had a sorely-needed 2-1 victory and his average was up to .221. That mark is still the lowest among the Yankee regulars but no one is complaining.

For Collins' second circuit, and his third hit of the game, snapped a full deadlock that existed since the first inning and kept the Yankees hot on the heels and only one game behind the pace-setting White Sox, who squeaked through to a 2-1 triumph over the Red Sox.

Byrne Out-Duels Wynn
Southpaw Tommy Byrne out-duelled Early Wynn in the Yankee victory, yielding Cleveland's only run in the first inning on a leadoff triple by Al Smith and a sacrifice fly by Bobby Avila.

Gandling Connie Johnson was the winning pitcher for the White Sox although he departed in the ninth after Jim Piersall singled with two out. Faye Thronberry then tripled off Morris Martin but Dixie Howell came in to get Eddie Joost for the final out. Jim Rivera's fourth inning homer proved the winning margin.

The Tigers blew a six-run lead and then another two-run lead but rallied for three runs in the ninth to lick the Senators, 13-10. Harvey Kuenn paced Detroit's 17-hit attack with two doubles and two singles while Joe Coleman, the fourth Tiger hurler, was credited with the win.

Left hander Bill Wight, discarded by half the teams in the American league, limited the Athletics to four hits while pitching the last-place Orioles to a 5-1 decision. Baltimore capitalized on four Kansas City errors as Bill Wilson saved the losers from being shut out with a fifth inning homer.

Braves Beat Dodgers
In the National league, Milwaukee rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to defeat first-place Brooklyn, 5-3, with the help of Eddie Mathews' 28th and 29th homers of the campaign. Don Zimmer's throwing error with two out in the eighth enabled the Braves to score their winning runs. Duke Snider slammed his 36th homer in the fifth frame off starter Bob Buhl.

Cincinnati stretched its winning streak to seven straight games by beating Philadelphia twice, 2-0 and 4-0 in a two-night twin bill.

Gus Bell drove in both runs in the opener and three more runs in the nightcap with his 17th and 18th homers. Johnny Klippstein hurled a first shutout since 1952 in limiting the Phils to six hits in the first game while Joe Nuxhall posted his 11th victory in pitching a five hitter in the night cap.

Shortstop Ernie Banks tied a major league record with his fourth grand slam of the season to help the Cubs beat the Pirates, 12-4. Banks' 32nd homer was the key blow in a six-run fifth inning for Chicago. Bob Rush was the winning pitcher.

Johnny Antonelli hurled his first shutout of the season as the Giants beat the Cards, 5-0. Antonelli held St. Louis to five hits.
